CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course is analyzing the fundamentals of marketing management – definitions, concepts, and development. It is intended to enable the student to understand marketing's decision making role in a company and the impact of those decisions in establishing distribution, pricing, and promotion in both retail and business markets. Buyer behavior, product/market development, and the impact of the macro environment in business are studied. Cases will be used to provide practical applications of the concepts and principles.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Students will study the fundamentals of marketing – definitions, concepts and development. It is intended to enable the student to understand marketing's decision making role in a company and the impact of those decisions in establishing a marketing plan.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The objectives of this course are for the student

- to develop a working knowledge of the marketing components product, price, promotion, and distribution as they apply to a company's operational plan
- to develop a sufficient understanding of the fundamentals of marketing management sufficient to be able to formulate a marketing plan to achieve company goals.
- to define marketing's role in a company's operations
- to describe the impact of marketing decisions on the organization's operations

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES/OUTCOMES

The goals for the course are to enable the student to develop sufficient knowledge and acumen

- to write a marketing plan that incorporates the major components of marketing
- to have a marketing plan that advances the corporation in the attainment of its short term and long term goals
- to prepare a marketing plan that provides adequate details for price, promotion, distribution based on a specific target market.
- to use primary and secondary sources to provide information for a marketing decision

METHODOLOGY

Instruction will include lecture, student discussion of material studied, in class exercises, and individual assignments. Students missing three consecutive classes will be dismissed from the course unless he/she has a documented medical excuse.

COURSE WORK

Course work will include study of the textbook, discussions of current events and the relevant aspects of marketing, case analysis, marketing assignments, and a major project. All assignments submitted for a grade must be typed.

Assignments are to have your name as on the university attendance roster/ID number, name of the assignment on the first page.

Thought process and analysis are the important components in individual and project assignments. Ease of reading and conciseness are important elements in such reports.

Assignments are to be on the table in the front of the class at the start of class. Late assignments will not be accepted.

The schedule lists the chapters to be studied – that is studied not read – in preparation for the day listed.

MAJOR PROJECT

There is a major group project – the development of and a written marketing plan for a product or service. Each group will prepare a detailed marketing plan that consists of

- 1. a market research questionnaire.
- 2. a plan for each of the 4P's of marketing.
- 3. an ad for the product or service (radio, TV, magazine, or billboard)

Everyone is to participate in the development of the project plan. Everyone is to participate in the written presentation of the plan. Any member not actively working with their team on the project is to be given a warning regarding his/her participation. If, after the warning, the student does not participate to the group's satisfaction he/she may be removed from the group. To remove a student from a group the student must be informed and the action must be reported to the professor. This is a group project requiring group participation. Each member of the team will write part of the final report – each will use a different font in 11 or 12 point. Fonts to be used are Times New Roman, Calibri, Arial, Cambria, Century Gothic, Courier. In the Table of Contents each project member will identify what segment he/she wrote along with the font style.

Two people from the same country may not be on the same project team. The focus of the project is that the team has developed a new product that it believes can be successful in making money. The team is to develop a marketing plan of action to submit to potential funders. Products the team can select from are:

Caloric Strip	3 in 1 stroller	Herbal Pillow
Powdered Wine	Scented nail polish	Teeth Cleaning Gum
No Snore Pillow	Reusable Copy Paper

You are a start-up company. You have very limited financial resources. You are developing a marketing plan to present to potential venture capitalists. Students will pick their own classmates for the project. Teams will consist of 4 or 5 people. No team will have two people from the same country.

WRITTEN PROJECT FORMAT

Overview of Company Description of Product/service Target Market Definition – demographics/psychographics Analysis of Macroenvironment Company analysis – SWOT Competitive analysis – SWOT Market Research Questionnaire Positioning Promotion Plan including an ad–not a website. Distribution Plan Pricing Plan Pro Forma Income Statement – 3 year plan.

Your project should demonstrate that the team understands and can apply the fundamentals of marketing. I will provide samples of previous projects to give you ideas for your written report.

Before submitting the final report, it is to be submitted for a Turnitin review for determination of originality. That report is to be attached to the final document submitted for a grade.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

In addition to the text used for this course, it may help the students to expand their interest and knowledge in the subject by reading material in other publications and texts. Recommended reading includes:

The Wall Street Journal Forbes San Francisco Business Times Business Week Integrated Marketing Communications, Belch & Belch; Irwin. 2002 Services Marketing, Lovelock; Prentice Hall, Inc. 1991. Second Edition. The Power of Logos, Haig, John Wiley & Sons; 1997

To learn marketing effectively students should utilize many resources – active participation in classroom discussions, observing/reflecting on the daily world of business, reading business newspapers/articles, and taking advantage of Lincoln University library resources. The library has online data bases and subscribes to magazines, newsletters, newspapers, journals from several organizations.

EXPECTATIONS

The textbook does a good job of explaining the basic marketing principles and concepts as well as introducing you to the vocabulary of the business. I will devote class time to discussing these concepts and how they apply to the marketing operations of a company. We will discuss the application of marketing theory to real life situations drawn from my professional experience. I want you to share your own experiences – or if you have limited work experience, to ask questions. We will have videos for class discussions on marketing and class exercises.

My expectation is that you will prepare yourself for each class session by studying the material assigned before coming to class, that you will think about the application of what you are studying to the job of a marketing manager, and that you will discuss your thoughts during class. Hand in assignments are due at the start of the class. Hand in assignments are to have your name as it appears on your school record, your ID number, and the name of the assignment you are turning in.

Americans consider time differently than people from other countries. Americans actually think of time as a tangible asset. We say, "Don't waste time." We talk about saving time. Because of this it is considered rude and is unacceptable to be late for a business meeting. The same applies to classes. We will conduct this class with the same respect for time. If you are late for class, wait until the break to enter.

Cell phone use is not permitted in the classroom. Use of a computer in the classroom requires the explicit permission of the instructor. Notes, electronic dictionaries, or any method of obtaining information is not permitted during exams. Research has determined that students who use computers to record notes do not learn as well nor retain the information as well as students who keep notes by handwriting. Einstein is quoted as saying "If you cannot explain something simply you do not understand it."

Students are expected to understand the course requirements as defined in this syllabus. The professor reserves the right to modify the syllabus.

EVALUATION

Grades will be based on the quality of work, project, examination, and classroom participation. Attendance is important. Classroom participation is not possible if you are not in class. Participation is defined as actively adding to a discussion by offering insights or different approaches to marketing problems/solutions that demonstrate a solid working knowledge of the concepts and principles of marketing. Grades will be based on:

•	Exams	210 points
•	Project assignments	30 points
•	Classroom participation	60 points
•	Individual assignments	15 points

• Marketing project

85 points

400 points

Students can earn 10 extra points by attending a Lincoln University library orientation on materials available. This will require complete attendance of the session. Attendance will be taken at the beginning and the end.

Rubrics for Project Report

A 75 – 85 points The report is easy to read/understand, contains no grammar/spelling errors, is properly cited, offers sound logic in the application of the marketing mix to a target market.

B 64 – 74 points The report is generally easy to read/understand, contains a minimum of grammar/spelling errors, some data/information not properly cited, application of marketing mix is acceptable for a target market.

C 55 – 73 points Minimally acceptable for a graduate paper. Not easily read/understood. Unacceptable number of grammar/spelling errors. Marketing mix is not specific enough for the Target Market.

D/F – below 55 points The report is not of graduate level. Unacceptable grammar/spelling errors. Document is disjointed in its presentation. Does not demonstrate an understanding of marketing mix and its application.

Only primary sources may be used in all assignments submitted for a grade. Wikipedia and Google references are not business professional and will not be accepted.

Course grading will be based on the following point schedule.

360 - 400 - A	340 - 359 - A-	320 - 339 - B +	300 - 319 - B
280 - 299 - B-	260 - 279 - C+	240 - 259 - C	220 - 239 - C-
180 – 219 – D	Below 180 - F

Exams will be short essay. Project assignments are listed in the schedule. Individual assignments are listed in the schedule. Any work submitted for a grade that is not the student's own work will be considered plagiarized unless properly cited. Plagiarized work will receive no points towards course grade.

TURN IT IN

The project report is to be submitted to Turn It In no later than 11:30 a.m. April 30, 2019. Each team will need to create an account to do so. Here are the instructions on how to do so.

1. Go to www.turnitin.com

2. Instead of login click on 'Create Account'

It is clickable and you can find it at the top right-hand side corner.

3. The page will appear as "Create a User Profile" where you need to go down below that page and there is a student button and click there.

4. Then the page will appear as "Create a Student Account" where you need to key in the given Class I and Enrollment Key by Dr. Hess.

Fill up those details in the respective places and also fill out all your email ids etc. below the page, and you are set for the class and then submit your report.

MAKE-UP WORK

Exams cannot be made up if missed – unless there is a documented emergency.

The professor reserves the right to modify the course as necessary to achieve student outcomes.

If you require special accommodations for this course, you should notify Student Services. Please contact them at studentservices@lincolnuca.edu (510) 628-8034.
