TEXTBOOK

Perreault, Cannon, and McCarthy, Essentials of Marketing Irwin, 15th Edition, 2015.
ISBN: 978-1-259-57353-8

METHODOLOGY

Instruction will include lecture, student discussion of material studied, a course project, and individual assignments.

COURSE WORK

Course work will include study of the textbook, discussions of current events, case history analysis, assignments, and a major project. All assignments must be typed. Assignments are due at the start of the class in which they are assigned. Your journal need not be typed. Lincoln University uses APA style format for student work. If you are unfamiliar with this format, contact the library for help. There are also free booklets available to show you the steps in using APA style format. Again, contact the library for help.

Thought process and analysis are the important components in individual and project assignments. Ease of reading and conciseness are important elements in such reports.

COURSE JOURNAL

Each student is to keep a course journal. This is your personal journal. You will use it to help you learn and apply what we are studying in this course.

Each day you make notes of what we discuss in class. If you are working, your job and the outside world will provide you with the opportunity to see how this all applies in marketing.

eg. Macroenvironment – I read in the Financial Times and The Wall Street Journal different opinions on how having a Democratic President and a Democratic congress will create a huge shift in how companies invest their money. There is a debate on whether this will improve the country's infrastructure. This may require companies to develop different products which will require entirely new marketing plans, programs, distribution, and pricing

The total points available for the journal is 60. I will ask for journals to be turned in twice during the course and at the end. They will be graded each time. I may ask students to share with the class what they have in their journal. Bring your journal to class every day and be prepared to turn it in on any day. Late submissions will not receive a grade.

MAJOR PROJECT

There is an individual project – the analysis of a company's marketing. Each student is to pick a company he/she has worked or volunteered for or intends to work for in the future. This must be approved by the instructor before starting.

Study the marketing of the company's products or services following what we studied in the course. Study the company's marketing and its results. Then analyze it from the perspective of the organization's marketing effort – especially its positioning, distribution, pricing, and promotion. Write a report evaluating the company's marketing of their products/services

After completing your analysis, present your detailed and specific recommendations to improve the organization's marketing effort. Make two specific recommended changes for its marketing in the next 1-3 years. These are to be in line with the concepts/principles studied during the course. Be sure to reference them in your paper.

Explain your reasoning for your recommendations along with a timeline for completing them and the expected results. You should have specific recommendations for change and the reason for your suggested changes. This project accounts for a major portion of your grade. You should treat it accordingly.

In case you want to do some research on an industry or a company I have asked Nicole Marsh, Lincoln University's Head Librarian, to provide some library sources you can use. Here are guidelines. Follow them closely.

Virtual Library (available 24/7)

The library's collection is primarily online. That means you can access our e-databases from home 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This includes thousands of journal articles, newspaper and magazine articles, eBooks, videos, business plans, company and business data, reference material, etc. All the library's electronic resources are listed with descriptions in the LIRN Portal. The portal can be accessed from our Library web page and with the following link and credentials (restricted to the Lincoln community):

LIRN Portal: <https://proxy.lirn.net/LincolnUniv>

Login: lincolnuniv

Password: lincolnoak

These are meant only for members of the Lincoln University community and are not to be shared outside of that. If we find someone has allowed a non-Lincoln University student to use these sources, we will close the portal which means no one will have access to these excellent data bases.

Your project must be submitted in word. You will submit it your report to Turnitin and Include the Turnitin report when you submit it to me. Any paper with similarity of 10+% on Turnitin will receive no points for the project. You can use material from internet sources if you provide proper reference/citation.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

In addition to the text used for this course, it may help the students to expand their interest and knowledge in the subject by reading material in other publications and texts. Recommended reading includes:

The Wall Street Journal

Rural Marketing

San Francisco Business Times

Business Week

Integrated Marketing Communications, Belch & Belch; Irwin. 2002

Services Marketing, Lovelock; Prentice Hall, Inc. 1991. Second Edition.

The Power of Logos, Haig, John Wiley & Sons; 1997

EXPECTATIONS

The textbook does a good job of explaining the basic marketing principles and concepts as well as introducing you to the vocabulary of the business. I will devote class time to discussing these concepts and how they apply to the marketing operations of a company. We will discuss the application of marketing theory to real life situations drawn from my professional experience. I want you to share your own experiences – or if you have limited work experience, to ask questions.

My expectation is that you will prepare yourself for each class session by studying the material assigned, that you will think about the application of what you are studying to the job of a marketing manager, and that you will discuss your thoughts during class.

Notes, electronic dictionaries, or any method of obtaining information is not permitted during quizzes or exam.

EVALUATION

Grades will be based on the quality of reports, project, examination, and classroom participation. Attendance is important. Classroom participation is not possible if you are not in class. Participation is defined as actively adding to a discussion by offering insights or different approaches to marketing problems/solutions that demonstrate a solid working knowledge of the concepts and principles of marketing. Memorizing definitions is not sufficient. Grades will be based on:

Quizzes	20 points
Exam	100 points
Classroom attendance/participation	80 points
Course Journal	60 points
Marketing project	85 points
	345 points

325 – 345 – A	304 – 324 – A-	293 – 303– B+	282 – 292 – B
271 – 281 – B-	260 – 270 – C+	249 – 259 – C	229 – 239 – C-
208 – 228 – D	Below 207 - F
