TEXTBOOK

Perreault, Cannon, and McCarthy, Essentials of Marketing Irwin, 15th Edition, 2015.
ISBN: 978-1-259-57353-8

METHODOLOGY

Instruction will include lecture, student discussion of material studied, a course project, and individual assignments.

COURSE WORK

Course work will include study of the textbook, discussions of current events, assignments. All assignments must be typed. Assignments are due at the start of the class in which they are assigned. Lincoln University uses APA style format for student work. If you are unfamiliar with this format, contact the library for help. There are also free booklets available to show you the steps in using APA style format. Again, contact the library for help.

Thought process and analysis are the important components in assignments. Ease of reading and conciseness are important elements in such reports.

ARTICLE ASSIGNMENTS

During the course you are required to find articles related to marketing, Read them, report what you learned. These articles are to be on some aspect of marketing. To be certain a student does not use AI to do his/her work, I will ask students to explain some of what they submitted. If they cannot explain sufficiently, I will assume you are not the author and will receive no points for the assignment.

In case you want to do some research on an industry or a company I have asked Nicole Marsh, Lincoln University's Head Librarian, to provide some library sources you can use. Here are guidelines. Follow them closely.

Virtual Library (available 24/7)

The library's collection is primarily online. That means you can access our e-databases from home 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This includes thousands of journal articles, newspaper and magazine articles, ebooks, videos, business plans, company and business data, reference material, etc. All of the library's electronic resources are listed with descriptions in the LIRN Portal. The portal can be accessed from our Library web page and with the following link and credentials (restricted to the Lincoln community):

LIRN Portal: <https://proxy.lirn.net/LincolnUniv>

These are meant only for members of the Lincoln University community and are not to be shared outside of that. If we find someone has allowed a non Lincoln University student to use these sources, we will close the portal which means no one will have access to these excellent data bases.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

In addition to the text used for this course, it may help the students to expand their interest and knowledge in the subject by reading material in other publications and texts. Recommended reading includes:

The Wall Street Journal

Rural Marketing

San Francisco Business Times

Business Week

Integrated Marketing Communications, Belch & Belch; Irwin. 2002

Services Marketing, Lovelock; Prentice Hall, Inc. 1991. Second Edition.

The Power of Logos, Haig, John Wiley & Sons; 1997

EXPECTATIONS

The textbook does a good job of explaining the basic marketing principles and concepts as well as introducing you to the vocabulary of business. I will devote class time to discussing these concepts and how they apply to the marketing operations of a company. We will discuss the application of marketing theory to real life situations drawn from my professional experience. I want you to share your own experiences – or if you have limited work experience, to ask questions.

My expectation is that you will prepare yourself for each class session by studying the material assigned, that you will think about the application of what you are studying to the job of a marketing manager, and that you will discuss your thoughts during class.

Notes, electronic dictionaries, or any method of obtaining information is not permitted during quizzes or exam.

EVALUATION

Grades will be based on the quality of reports, examination, and classroom participation. Attendance is important. Classroom participation is not possible if you are not in class. Participation is defined as actively adding to a discussion by offering insights or different approaches to marketing problems/solutions that demonstrate a solid working knowledge of the concepts and principles of marketing. Memorizing definitions is not sufficient. Grades will be based on:

Quizzes	20 points
Exam	100 points
Classroom attendance/participation	80 points
Articles	100 points
	300 points

280 – 300 – A	259 – 279 – A-248 – 258– B+	237 – 247 – B
