Students will study the fundamentals of marketing – definitions, concepts and development. It is intended to enable the student to understand marketing's decision making role in a company and the impact of those decision in establishing a marketing plan.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The objectives of this course are

- to develop an understanding of the fundamentals of marketing management
- to understand marketing's role in a company
- to develop a working knowledge of the marketing components product, price, promotion, and distribution.
- to understand the impact of marketing decisions on the organization.

TEXTBOOK

Perreault, Cannon, and McCarthy, Essentials of Marketing Irwin, 11th Edition,2008. ISBN: 13: 978007340471

METHODOLOGY

Instruction will include lecture, student discussion of material studied, case studies, individual assignments.

COURSE WORK

Course work will include study of the textbook, discussions of current events, case history analysis, assignments, and a major project.

Reports will be typed.

Thought process and analysis are the important components in individual and project assignments. Ease of reading and conciseness are important elements in such reports. Late papers will be graded down unless previous arrangements have been made with the instructor.

Examination - there will be two exams - a midterm and a final.

MAJOR PROJECT

There is a major group project – the development and presentation of a marketing plan for a product or service. Each group will prepare a detailed marketing plan that consists of

- 1. a market research questionnaire.
- 2. a plan for each of the 4P's of marketing.
- 3. an ad for the product or service (radio, TV, magazine, or billboard)

The instructor will assign students to teams. The teams will be comprised of people from different countries. This is designed to enable students to learn the culture, marketing approaches of different countries as well as their learning styles.

Everyone is to participate in the development of the project plan. Everyone is to participate in the written and oral presentation of the plan. Each team will have 5 minutes for each member of the team for the oral presentation. e.g. 5 team members would have 25 minutes for their presentation. Any member not actively working with their team on the project is to be reported to the instructor. This is a group project requiring group participation.

The focus of the project is that the team has developed a new product that it believes can be successful in making money. The team is to develop a marketing plan of action. Products the team can select from are:

Caloric Strip	3 in 1 stroller	Herbal Pillow
Powdered Wine	Powdered Beer	Helicopter Commuter Service
Teeth Cleaning Gum	No Snore Pillow	Reusable Copy Paper

You are a start-up company. You have very limited financial resources. You are developing a marketing plan to present to potential venture capitalists.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

In addition to the text used for this course, it may help the students to expand their interest and knowledge in the subject by reading material in other publications and texts. Recommended reading includes:

The Wall Street Journal Forbes San Francisco Business Times Business Week Integrated Marketing Communications, Belch & Belch; Irwin. 2002 Services Marketing, Lovelock; Prentice Hall, Inc. 1991. Second Edition. The Power of Logos, Haig, John Wiley & Sons; 1997

EXPECTATIONS

The textbook does a good job of explaining the basic marketing principles and concepts as well as introducing you to the vocabulary of the business. I will devote class time to discussing these concepts and how they apply to the marketing operations of a company. We will discuss the application of marketing theory to real life situations drawn from my professional experience. I want you to share your own experiences - or if you have limited work experience, to ask questions. We will have video tapes and class exercises.

My expectation is that you will prepare yourself for each class session by studying the material assigned, that you will think about the application of what you are studying to the job of a marketing manager, and that you will discuss your thoughts during class.

Americans consider time differently than people from other countries. Americans actually think of time as a tangible asset. We say "Don't waste time." We talk about saving time.

Because of this it is considered rude and is unacceptable to be late for a business meeting. The same applies to classes. We will conduct this class with the same respect for time. It is considered rude to your classmates and instructor to be late for class.

EVALUATION

Grades will be based on the quality of reports, project, examination, and classroom participation. Attendance is important. Classroom participation is not possible if you are not in class. Participation is defined as actively adding to a discussion by offering insights or different approaches to marketing problems/solutions that demonstrate a solid working knowledge of the concepts and principles of marketing. Grades will be based on:

٠	Exams	50%
•	Project assignments	10%
•	Classroom participation	15%
•	Individual assignments	5%
•	Marketing project	20%

MAKE-UP WORK

Assignments are to be on time at the start of class. Late assignments will be reduced one grade. Mid-term exam, final exam, and group presentation can not be made up if missed – unless there is a documented emergency.
