LINCOLN UNIVERSITY COURSE SYLLABUS

COURSE NUMBER: BA 388

Course Title: Seminar on Higher Education

Course Start Date: January 21, 2014 Course End Date: May 6, 2014

Tuesdays, 15:30-18:15 (3:30-6:15 PM)

Course Description:

Offered to students in the doctoral program or to master's degree students as an elective course for extra credits. The seminar examines the core values, structures, processes, language, and personnel of higher education, analyses critical issues facing colleges and management skills for tracking them. It includes oral presentations required for each participating student. (3 units = 45 lecture hours)

Learning Objectives:

- Students will gain an understanding of operating structures, policies, and regulatory requirements affecting schools, colleges, and universities that have business and management undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral degree programs.
- 2. Students will be introduced to the principles of transformative learning, and will have analyzed the effect of transformative learning within our social communities, for-profit businesses, NGOs and non-profit organizations, and higher education.
- 3. Students will investigate and analyze the following current issues or topics that are affecting higher education in the business discipline: Degreed, MOOC, Education Networks, Open Courses, Non-Credit versus Credit.
- 4. Students will gain an understanding of what constitutes a paradigm shift in business and management thinking and practices; the relationship between paradigm shifts that occur in the workplace and higher education, and how this relationship affects higher educational and business practices and approaches.
- 5. Students will acquire an understanding of the following instructional methodologies: The flipped classroom, team-based examinations, and problem-based learning. In addition, students will have prepared lesson plans using these methodologies and will have practiced delivering the lesson to other students.
- 6. Students will have learned how to design and deliver an effective TED talk that focuses on teaching a business topic using transformational learning methods.
- 7. Students will have learned how to compare, evaluate, and contrast business degree programs offered in domestic and international markets.

INTRODUCTION:

This course uses a seminar format, which means you cannot be passive and be successful in this course. As a seminar participant, you are expected to lead discussions on various subjects or topics with other seminar participants in a scholarly way. In addition, you will present your understanding and analysis of the texts, educational methodologies, theories, and practices to inform and educate seminar participants.

Seminar participants will examine and discuss current trends, innovations, issues, and practices that influence how and what is taught in higher education relating to business and management. Participants will also analyze case studies where these approaches have been used, and have opportunities to experience putting some of these approaches into practice through exercises and assignments. In addition, participants will learn how to design and deliver a TED talk that will educate others on a business topic. This seminar will also introduce participants to some of the influential theories and research that have shaped our present day educational business/management curriculum, practices, programs, and policies.

CLASS PROCEDURES:

Each session will be conducted in a seminar format where everyone is expected to actively participate in the learning process. Beside information presented by the instructor each week, seminar members will take turns leading class discussion of the reading material.

In the following schedule, you have been provided information describing the various instructions, assignments, topics, questions for discussion, my comments, or a description of the activities for the day.

Instructional methodology will primarily be: Active learning seminar participation format, class discussion, video, audio, and experiential methods. There may be times when lecture may be used, but this will be infrequent.

You should have an active Lincoln University e-mail account so that you can receive any course revisions, feedback on your assignments and coursework, and any information that will be disseminated concerning the class. Electronic submission of coursework will be allowed only if the student uses his/her Lincoln University e-mail address (user@lincolnucasf.edu).

Students will also be asked during the semester to evaluate this course. It is important that you take this seriously because your feedback helps my professional development and serves to see what parts of the instructional methodology and material needs to be changed, modified, and improved.

Students are required to behave in class in accordance with Lincoln University's Student Honor Code and Standards of Conduct. Both of these are found in your student handbook. Misconduct will have an adverse impact on your grade.

ASSIGNMENTS:

Reading Assignments: All reading assignments need to be completed by the start of the class session following their assignment in the course schedule. For example, a reading assignment assigned on 1/21 is due on 1/28.

Written Assignments: The performance expectation is that a student will integrate their understanding of our course material along with their individual analysis and perspective.

Leading Class Discussion of Textbook Chapters (20 total points): In addition to reading assigned chapters, students will be assigned specific chapters where he/she will lead the class discussion of the chapter. This is not a lecture or formal presentation requiring PowerPoint. You should be able convey your thoughts through conversation with others in class. The performance expectation is to convey an understanding of the key points and learning from the chapter. What did you learn from the chapter? What meaning does it have for higher education in business and management? Evidence of deficient preparation will result in a lower grade.

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 total points) Writing Assignment #1: Using the results of your Adult Learning Styles Inventory, your educational experience, and your perspective; what are the best instructional methodologies for learning in business and management degree programs? Why?

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 total points) Writing Assignment #2: Compare and contrast the strengths and weaknesses of online and traditional classroom degree programs for the employability of business and management degree students following graduation.

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 total points) Writing Assignment #3: Reflection Paper on Kuhn and how his writings have influenced business and management thinking in the construction and delivery of higher education degree programs.

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 total points) Writing Assignment #4: This paper entails taking two positions where one is for integration, and one that is against integration. Make an argument for integrating units acquired through professional noncredit courses such as those offered through Degreed, MOOC, Education Network, Open Courses, and others with those of existing programs. Next, make an argument against integration.

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 points) Writing Assignment #5: Discuss the feasibility and need for educational programs like those offered through Draper University in San Mateo, CA to be integrated with traditional university business degree programs.

Individual (4-5 page paper, 10 total points) Writing Assignment #6: Compare and contrast the approach and the content of three graduate level business degree programs available in the SF Bay Area to determine if they meet the needs of today's workplace. Online degree programs cannot be used for this assignment.

18 Minute TED Talk (20 total points): Design and deliver an 18 Minute TED talk on an educational topic using transformational learning methods. The TED talk will be digitally recorded and provided to the student for development and performance feedback.

Assignments must have: The student's first name, last name, and student ID number at the top of the page. The title of the assignment must also be in the heading. Simply putting the date of the assignment is not correct and it will be downgraded 10% for not following instructions.

Class Attendance Defined:

- (1) You are expected to contribute to the class discussions in meaningful ways. That means:
 - contributing new and relevant information to the course discussion and from readings of the textbooks;
 - commenting in a positive manner:
 - building on the remarks of your fellow students;
 - posing questions of your fellow students; and
 - Sharing quotes, websites, and other supplementary information.
- (2) If you are absent from class on a day when there is a quiz and have a valid excuse, you make take a make-up quiz at a time scheduled with the instructor within two weeks of the missed quiz. This includes the nine learning group quizzes. Assignments that do not require team participation may also be made-up with a valid excuse. A valid excuse requires that you present the instructor with a doctor's or official medical note indicating an illness prevented you from coming to class, a court subpoena, jury duty, or other evidence that your absence was beyond your control. Missing class for your convenience such as a routine doctor or dentist visit, a non-emergency appoint with an attorney, or being called into work are not valid reasons for being absent.

LEARNING ENVIRONMENT:

The goal of the classroom environment is to be collaborative and communicative. To help facilitate collaborative communication, I would suggest that before you proofread or carefully consider your thought before speaking. There are times when an innocent comment can be miss-interpreted. Most of the time, any miss-communication can be rectified through open communication. However, if you find the content of a message offensive, please notify me.

Students are required to follow Lincoln University's Student Standards of Conduct and Honor Code that is in the student handbook. Violations may have an adverse impact on a student's grade.

A = Superior performance for a graduate student. A superior performance. Has shown exceptional insight into the application of course material to the assignment, and presents an original analysis or argument. The student has identified and understood many aspects of an issue, and has effectively used primary reference sources for supporting their analysis, argument, or conceptual approach. Has included major theoretical approaches to reinforce their key points and central theme. Displays superior written and oral communication skills that includes being able to effectively communicate logically and clearly. The analysis, argument, or approach is persuasive. Makes serious attempts to integrate to integrate ideas, theories, concepts, models learned from this and other disciplines. Incorporates insight and thought into the next steps in the progression of ideas, theories, and concepts. For a grade of 100%, the standard is publication quality.

A-= Excellent performance for a graduate student. An excellent performance. The analysis and/or argument is interesting, clear, logical, and sound. However, it is not as original, or the analysis and argument is not as in-depth as an "A" paper. The analysis, argument, or approach is not as well researched and supported as in an "A" paper.

B+ = Very good performance for a graduate student. A very good performance. The analysis, approach, argument is reasonably clear. The ideas are not as clearly expressed

- as in the "A" or "A-"categories, but the analysis, approach, or argument contains some interesting points. There are some supporting references from primary sources; however, more supporting references would have strengthened the analysis, argument, or approach.
- B = Good performance for a graduate student. A good performance that demonstrates a competent grasp of the course material. The analysis, approach, or argument is not as effectively structured as it should have been. There are a few interesting ideas or points within the paper. However, the analysis, approach, or argument would have been strengthened with more thought, insight, creativity, and organization. The applicable theories and concepts are briefly covered in the key points of the analysis, the approach, or the argument. However, serious improvement in these areas is required. Reliance more on secondary data sources than primary sources of data. The ideas are not as clearly expresses as in the "B+" category above.
- B- = Above Average performance for a graduate student. An above average performance. Performance indicates a competent understanding, but not to the degree as indicated in the "B" grade category above. Argument, approach, or analysis primarily based on secondary reference sources. There are some problems with the organization and structure of the argument, analysis, or approach.
- C+ = A marginally above-average performance for a graduate student. The structure and organization of the approach, analysis, or argument is often ineffective, unclear or unpersuasive. The central theme is either absent or unclear. Supporting references are based solely on secondary sources. Performance is not to the "B-" grade level above.
- C = Average performance for a graduate student. An average level of performance that indicates an acceptable comprehension of the basic concepts and theories being studied. The argument, approach, or analysis is sometimes incoherent with significant organizational and structural problems. Communication is an acceptable level for a university student. Supporting references are limited and based solely on secondary sources.
- C-= Below-average performance for a graduate student. A below-average performance based on deficient studying of the course material and secondary research sources. Significant grammar, style, and punctuation errors to the degree that communication is unclear. There is no identifiable approach, argument, or analysis.
- D+ = Poor performance for a graduate student. A poor level of performance with very little evidence of organization and structure. Serious grammar, punctuation, and style errors. Very little evidence of an argument, analysis, or approach.
- D = Very poor performance for a graduate student. A very poor level of performance. There is virtually no evidence of a thoughtful expression of analysis, argument, or approach. Incoherent and unclear communication, structure, and organization.

 $F = Failing \ performance for a graduate student.$ Work is not acceptable and/or timely. Academic credit is not earned. Performance borders on plagiarism.
